DISASTROUS FLOODS DO DAMAGE IN EUROPE

SUDDEN THAWS, TORRENTIAL RAINS ARE REPORTED

RHINE RIVER IN GERMANY HAS RISEN SIX FEET

AVALANCHES HAVE OCCURRED AT GLARIS AND INTER-LAKEN

London, Feb. 16.—(UP)—Disastrous floods in European countries from Great Britain to Russia and avalanches in Switzerland that threatened to become serious, were reported today after sudden thaws and torrential rains.

A sudden rise in temperature in Switzerland and heavy rains that melted the deep snow, brought both floods and avalanches.

The river Rhine has risen six feet.
Avalanches have occurred at Glaris,
Interlaken and elsewhere.

Danger of avalanches in the Jung-frau region was reported especially grave.

All Swiss lakes have risen markedly.

Floods were reported at Chaux De Fonds, Basle, Allamans, Boltigen,
Fribourg, Zurich and other places.

Bridges have been smashed, roads destroyed and railway traffic disrupted.

Floods were reported at various places in Great Britain.

The rivers Wye and Derwent have overflowed, causing extensive inundations in Derbyshire.

Lake Bala, in Merionethshire, has overflowed and submerged surroundings farms. Livestock was drowned in many places.

Eight of a crew of twelve were drowned off the Hebrides Islands
when the fishing trawler Briarlyn was wrecked.

Floods in the Crimea and Northern Caucasus are subsiding after causing immense damage and several deaths.

Eighty-five villages in the Melitopol district of the southern Ukraine are under water. Jewish agricultural colonies were affected, but damage was reported to be comparatively small.

Santiago, Chile, Feb. 16.—(UP)—
A strong earthquake shock was felt last night in Atacama province. No damage or casualties were reported.

GOLD SEEKERS SWARMING TO TONOPAH FIELD

BUCK BITTERLY COLD WIND IN SCORES OF AUTO-MOBILES

TENT CITY SPRINGS UP OVER-NIGHT AT SKULL MOUN-TAIN

Tonopah, Nevada, Feb. 16.—(UP)— Bucking a bitterly cold wind, automobiles loaded with trusting, adventurous gold seekers left here for the new Wahomee gold fields at Skull mountain, where a tent city has sprung up overnight following the discovery of gold a week ago.

Each machine carried supplies sufficient to last its occupants for many days. The few trucks which have gone in have carried commodities worth by weight much more than the gold in the hills.

Food prices were reported to be fabulous although the usual exorbitant charges for water which are encountered at nearly every gold camp, were absent. Cane Springs, only three miles away from the claim staked out last week by Mark Lefler, furnished an abundant supply of clear, fresh water.

The first truckload of lumber arrived at the diggings today and those boards sold for prices higher than if they had been hand carved into the finest furniture. Other trucks were leaving Tonopah and Las Vegas as fast as they could be loaded.

The camp, which has become peopled with 500 prospectors within four days, is 149 miles from here and 110 miles from Las Vegas.

BODIES OF TWO MISSING DEPUTY SHERIFFS FOUND

INDIANA, FEB-RUARY 7

FAILED TO ARRIVE AT REFORM-ATORY WITH THEIR PRISONERS

Covington, Ind., Feb. 16.—(UP)—
The bodies of two Lafayette, Ind., deputy sheriffs, missing since they disappeared with two prisoners more than a week ago, were found here today.

The deputies, Wallace McClure
and John P. Grove, left Lafayette for the state reformatory at Pendleton, Feb. 7. They failed to arrive there, and later the prisoners were seen in Danville, Ill.

The bodies were found in a woods near Covington.

The prisoners with whom the deputies left Lafayette were John Burns and Samuel Baxter, convicted burglars. Two persons tentatively identified as Burns and Baxter were being held at St. Clairsville, O.
Other suspects were held in several other cities. None had been identified definitely.

Charles Abdill, a farmer, who lives west of Covington, discovered
the bodies while searching for a cow.
He notified Chief of Police Charles E. Ray of Covington that the bodies were lying side by side, covered by a laprobe which had been reported missing from the automobile in which the start to Pendleton was made.

The automobile was found at Decatur, Ill., several days after the disappearance.

Chief of Police Ray and Isaac Clawson of Covington went to Abdill's farm to take charge of the bodies.

They refused to permit anyone to examine the bodies. For this reason, it was not known how the deputies were killed.

Miss Linda Loreda, screen actress, had summoned Dr. E. J. Krahulik.
Miss Loreda said the writer was suf-

Resolution at Pan-American Conference to Outlaw War Is Endorsed by U. S. Delegation

TEXT OF THE RESOLUTION GIVEN IN FULL

TION

ASSERTS AMERICAN NATIONS SHOULD ALWAYS BE INSPIRED BY SOLIDARITY

Havana, Feb. 16.—(UP)—A resolution to outlaw war among the American republics was introduced at the Pan-American conference today and immediately and unqualifiedly indorsed on behalf of the United States by Charles Evans Hughes, its chief delegate.

Gonzales Roa, Mexico, introduced the resolution at a meeting of the international law committee. It said:

"Whereas, the American nations should always be inspired by solidarity and co-operation for justice and the general welfare; and

"Whereas, there is no international controversy so serious as not to be susceptible of peaceful arrangement
if the parties in truth desire to reach a pacific solution; therefore

"Be it resolved that, as aggressive warfare constitutes an international crime against humanity, the sixth Pan-American conference declares first, that all aggression is illicit and is therefore prohibited; secondly that all American states shall employ peaceable means to resolve conflicts that may arise between them."

The resolution was referred to a sub-committee for preliminary consideration.

A moment later, when the committee was discussing another question, Hughes rose and said:

"I take this opportunity to express entire accord with the proposal of Senor Gonzales Roa."

MURDER OF IVY THOMS,
DRUGGIST

HICKMAN ENTERS DOUBLE PLEA
TO THE CHARGES
MADE

Los Angeles, Feb. 16.—A jury to
try William Edward Hickman and
Welby Hunt for the murder of Ivy
Thoms, Los Angeles druggist, was expected to be completed today.

When court convened three men
and nine women jurors were seated tentatively in the jury box. They were chosen from thirty-four talesmen.

Hickman, sentenced to hang for
the murder of little Marion Parker,
has entered a double plea of "not guilty" and "not guilty by reason of insanity" to the Thoms murder.
Hunt, confessed accomplice in the
holdup last Christmas eve which resulted in the slaying of Thoms, has pleaded "not guilty."

Thoms was killed by a bullet fired
by either Hunt or Hickman in their
attempt to gain freedom past a policeman, the state contends. Hunt
and Hickman each accuse the other
of firing the shot which killed the
druggist.

Cass Lake, Minn., Feb. 16.—
(UP)—Marie Teeler, 4-year-old Indian girl, may lose her sight as
the result of an attack by an owl
near her home.

The child was at play near the
house when the bird swooped
down and rested on her head, claw-
ing at her eyes.

SENATE FARM BLOC LEADERS SEEK AGREEMENT

WANT IMMEDIATE ACTION ON TARIFF SCHEDULES AFFECT-
ING FARM PRODUCTS

SENATOR SHIPSTEAD WANTS
MORE PROTECTION ON MILK,
ONIONS, CREAM, ETC.

Washington, Feb. 16.—(UP)—
Senate farm bloc leaders are attempting to reach an agreement with
house members for immediate action
on tariff schedules affecting farm
products. It was learned today, Sen.
Shipstead, Minnesota, farmer-labor-
ite, is sponsoring the movement to
give additional protection to rutabagas, onions, oil-bearing seeds, milk
and cream.

Senate farm bloc members incline
to doubt the possibility of obtaining
the desired agreement, however.

JOHN E. ANDRUS OF YONKERS IN FINE HEALTH AND SPIRITS

STOCK JUMPED FROM
$65 TO $97.630

New York, Feb. 16.—(UP)—John
E. Andrus of Yonkers, who for years
rode on subways but differed from
other straphangers because he had millions of dollars, today reached
his 87th birthday.

He was in fine health and spirits.
In fact he offered to to box one of his interviewers. The challenge was declined.

"I expect to live long," he said.
"I hope to live within a few days of the age of Methuselah."

The annual interview began on routine lines. Asked to name the greatest man he knew, Andrus chose
John D. Rockefeller. Then the capitalist told of a reminiscent mood and told how his huge fortune
was built.

He bought a share of Singer machine stock in 1864 for $65 which
now has grown to a value of $97.
630.

"But say," he recited, "I've got
some things that beat that all hollow. Some years ago I took some stock in the Texas Pacific railroad
when it owned vast land grants.
They gave an acre of land with a share of stock. I think mine cost about 30 cents a share and now its worth about $2,412 a share."

TESTIFIES DETECTIVES WERE EMPLOYED

Washington, Feb. 16.—(UP)—
Henry Mason Day, international
agent for Harry F. Sinclair, oil
multi-millionaire, testified in his own defense in the Sinclair-Burns
contempt trial today that he and Sinclair employed detectives to shadow the Fall-Sinclair jury because they feared Sinclair's enemies
might influence the jurors.

TO BOOST FOR PAVED ROADS IN MINNESOTA

ST. PAUL

000 BOND ISSUE TO MEET
DEMAND

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 16.—(UP)—
Permanent organization of a statewide highway body to boost for paved roads was begun today when 500 men from all parts of Minnesota
responded to a call of a temporary
committee, organized a few weeks
ago at Minneapolis.

J. E. Reynolds, Mankato, was chosen chairman of the committee
which is working for the passage of
a $20,000,000 bond issue proposed
by C. M. Babcock, state highway
commissioner.

The bond issue was proposed by Commissioner Babcock as a means
of providing Minnesota with the best paved road system in America.

Enthusiasm over the proposal was voiced by the half-thousand men assembled at the organization's initial session.

Committees were chosen to nominate officers and to choose a name for the organization. Another committee was appointed to draw up
resolutions which were to be presented to the delegates. The chief resolution will set the organization
on record as approving the Babcock
plan, while another will favor greater co-operation between township
and county boards in the handling
of road matters.

"There is not sufficient co-operation at present between township
and county boards," Reynolds declared. "This results in waste roads."

"This meeting was called so that
a body could be formed which will try to reach a conclusion at what should be done for the highways of Minnesota," Reynolds said after calling the meeting to order. "Last
June an organization known as No.
Seven Highway Association was organized at Waseca and it is from
this start that the present meeting
has grown. We are here to form a statewide organization to get behind
the Babcock plan."

"It is our endeavor to have the
next session of the legislature adopt
a $20,000,000 bond issue plan," Reynolds declared.

EDDIE FOY DIES IN HOTEL AT KANSAS CITY

LINER APPEARING IN

73-YEAR-OLD VETERAN PASSES
AWAY AT 8:45 A. M. OF
HEART DISEASE

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 16.—(UP)—
Eddie Foy, 73 years old, veteran
of the American stage, died of heart disease at 8:45 A. M. today in his suite at Hotel Baltimore here. He was in Kansas City for an engagement this week at the Orpheum Theatre.

Foy took ill shortly after 5 A. M.
When his condition failed to show
improvement, Mrs. Foy, who accompanied the actor here, called a physician. Hypodermic injections were administered without results.

The actor regained consciousness
long enough to say farewell to his wife and Father Hennkensy, who had been summoned to perform the last rites.

TWO BUNGALOWS
AND WAREHOUSE
WRECKED BY BOMBS

Chicago, Feb. 16.—(UP)—Two
bungalows and a warehouse were wrecked by two high explosive bombs here today. Both bombings were attributed to rivalry in
the liquor traffic. No one was injured.

A large stock of alcohol was found in the basement of the bungalow of Edward O'Brien after the explosion there. The bomb tore off the front of O'Brien's home and
damaged a bungalow next door.

O'Brien was held for federal authorities.

The other bomb exploded in a warehouse on the south side. Alcohol in tins was found behind a pile of furniture in the warehouse.

FORMER GENERAL RAKOWICA ARRESTED AT BORDER OF ROUMANIA

WAS CARRYING MESSAGE FROM PRINCE CAROL WHO HAD RE-
NOUNCED THRONE

Vienna, Feb. 16.—(UP)—A second attempt of Prince Carol, whose young son is king of Roumania, to send a manifesto to his homeland
has been stopped, according to advices from Bucharest, through the arrest at the border of former General Rakowica.

The arrest was considered a sequel to the arrest several months ago of M. Manoliescu, former under-secretary of finance for Roumania.
He was carrying a message from Prince Carol, who had renounced his
right to the throne while his father,
King Ferdinand, was still alive.

It was not until the arrest of Gen.
Rakowica—who was said to be carrying the manifesto from Paris to Bucharest—that the prince again
figured in the delicate problems of Roumania. What the manifesto contained could not be learned.

Coincidentally the national peasants party met Tuesday at Carivo
and assailed the policies of the present Roumanian government. The liberal party also met Tuesday at Jassy and speakers said the throne
—under Carol's father—had not
been confident in the peasants.

Whether Prince Carol had timed
his manifesto with the meeting of
the peasants party was unknown.

Since the death of Bratianu, Carol
has been living quietly in his villa
in a suburb of Paris. It was presumed he had not been rejoined by
Mme. Lupescu, for whom he renounced his right to the throne.

BURGLAR STEALS GOLD CHALICE

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 16.—(UP)—
A burglar early today forced an entrance to Archbishop Curley's residence and stole a valuable gold chalice that is generously studded with jewels.

The precious cup was a gift from
the Catholics of Baltimore to the late Cardinal Gibbons, on the occasion of Cardinal Gibbons' fiftieth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood. Diamonds set in one side of the chalice formed a small
cross.

TWO ST. PAUL MEN TO BE ARRAIGNED ON KIDNAPING CHARGES

Ellsworth, Wis., Feb. 16.—(UP)—
Two St. Paul men will be arraigned in court here Monday on kidnaping
charges.

When arraigned in justice court
yesterday Tom Plattner and Larry Wilkus of St. Paul entered pleas of not guilty to charges of kidnaping
Roy Hyatt, night marshal at River Falls.

Plattner and Wilkus are held in the county jail.

WILL CARRY HIM INTO THE
SOUTH AND MIDDLE WEST

WILL THROW HIM INTO ACTIVE
FIGHT AGAINST GOV.
AL SMITH

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Feb. 16.—A Reed-
Smith contest is promising to develop
in democratic ranks along with the Hoover-Willis war now progressing
among republicans.

Sen. James A. Reed of Missouri
will set out tomorrow night on a
speaking tour which will carry him
into the south and middle west and
may take him to the Pacific coast,
the United Press learned today. The stump trip is counted upon by Reed's
friends to throw him into an active
fight to get the democratic presidential nomination against Gov. Al
Smith of New York.

Reed will speak at Dallas, Texas,
next Monday and at Tulsa, Okla., Tuesday. He will then go to Kansas City for another speaking engagement where the remainder of
his tour will be arranged.

Reed's friends plan to put him in
the primary races in many states
where they think he has a good chance to get delegates.

They have abandoned the old policy of passive campaigning which first was followed in belief that it would be best to hold back until after Smith had a run in the Houston convention.

The southern trip is being undertaken following a movement among
southern congressional delegations
here to get Reed named as second
choice to their various favorite sons.
This step is designed to prevent delegating from being influenced to go to the south after the early favorite
son balloting is abandoned.

Bitterness in the Hoover-Willis
battle was manifest again today with publication of correspondence between Sen. Willis of Ohio and Maurice Maschke, republican national committeeman, who switched from Willis to Herbert Hoover.

Willis made a threat in a letter to Maschke that he would, as senator,
see that Maschke got no more patronage or privileges which arise ordinarily from harmony between a senator and a national committeeman working in harmony. The senator attributed the pro-Hoover opposition to him in Ohio to Willis'
strong dry views. He pledged himself to work for a bone dry plank in
the republican platform.

Willis' statements were made in answer to Maschke's letter stating Maschke considered endorsement of Hoover imperative to party success
in Ohio. Republicans of his district
are demanding Hoover and their wishes could not be ignored, Maschke
stated.

GAINS FIRST RESPITE FROM HIS MANY PUBLIC FUNC-TIONS

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 16.—(UP)—
Col. Charles A. Lindbergh slipped behind a cloud of obscurity today for
the first respite from public functions since he went hunting some weeks back in Panama.

For the next four days the good-
will ambassador wants and will be permitted to be just plain "Slim"
Lindbergh of the air-mail service,
browsing around old haunts renewing ties interrupted by his world
tour.

The "Lone Eagle's" next public appearance will come Monday when
he throws his increasingly important
support to the air-mail with a flight
over the St. Louis-Chicago route.
Several thousand pounds of air-mail
that day will bear a special commemorative post-mark.

MURDER OF IVY THOMS,
DRUGGIST

MADE

Los Angeles, Feb. 16.—A jury to
try William Edward Hickman and
Welby Hunt for the murder of Ivy
Thoms, Los Angeles druggist, was expected to be completed today.

and nine women jurors were seated
tentatively in the jury box. They were chosen from thirty-four tales-
men.

Hickman, sentenced to hang for
the murder of little Marion Parker,
has entered a double plea of "not
guilty" and "not guilty by reason of
insanity" to the Thoms murder.
Hunt, confessed accomplice in the
holdup last Christmas eve which resulted in the slaying of Thoms, has
pleaded "not guilty."

Thoms was killed by a bullet fired
by either Hunt or Hickman in their
attempt to gain freedom past a policeman, the state contends. Hunt
and Hickman each accuse the other
of firing the shot which killed the
druggist.

OWL ATTACKS INDIAN GIRL; CLAWS HER EYES

Cass Lake, Minn., Feb. 16.—
(UP)—Marie Teeler, 4-year-old
Indian girl, may lose her sight as
the result of an attack by an owl
near her home.

The child was at play near the
house when the bird swooped
down and rested on her head, claw-
ing at her eyes.

Neighbors, hearing the child's frantic cries, killed the bird.

ING FARM PRODUCTS

ONIONS, CREAM, ETC.

Washington, Feb. 16.—(UP)—
Senate farm bloc leaders are attempting to reach an agreement with
house members for immediate action
on tariff schedules affecting farm
products. It was learned today, Sen.
Shipstead, Minnesota, farmer-labor-
ite, is sponsoring the movement to
give additional protection to ruta-
bagas, onions, oil-bearing seeds, milk
and cream.

Senate farm bloc members incline
to doubt the possibility of obtaining

JOHN E. ANDRUS OF YONKERS IN FINE HEALTH AND SPIRITS

STOCK JUMPED FROM
$65 TO $97.630

New York, Feb. 16.—(UP)—John
E. Andrus of Yonkers, who for years
rode on subways but differed from
millions of dollars, today reached
his 87th birthday.

He was in fine health and spirits.
In fact he offered to to box one of
his interviewers. The challenge
was declined.

"I expect to live long," he said.
"I hope to live within a few days of
the age of Methuselah."

The annual interview began on
John D. Rockefeller. Then the capitalist fell into a reminiscent mood and told how his huge fortune
was built.

He bought a share of Singer machine stock in 1864 for $65 which
now has grown to a value of $97.
630.

"But say," he recited, "I've got
some things that beat that all hol-
low. Some years ago I took some
stock in the Texas Pacific railroad
when it owned vast land grants.
They gave an acre of land with a
share of stock. I think mine cost
about 30 cents a share and now its

TESTIFIES DETECTIVES WERE EMPLOYED

Henry Mason Day, international
agent for Harry F. Sinclair, oil
multi-millionaire, testified in his
own defense in the Sinclair-Burns
contempt trial today that he and Sinclair employed detectives to
shadow the Fall-Sinclair jury because they feared Sinclair's enemies
might influence the jurors.

TO BOOST FOR PAVED ROADS IN MINNESOTA

ST. PAUL

DEMAND

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 16.—(UP)—
Permanent organization of a statewide highway body to boost for
paved roads was begun today when 500 men from all parts of Minnesota
responded to a call of a temporary
committee, organized a few weeks
ago at Minneapolis.

J. E. Reynolds, Mankato, was chosen chairman of the committee
which is working for the passage of
a $20,000,000 bond issue proposed
by C. M. Babcock, state highway
commissioner.

The bond issue was proposed by Commissioner Babcock as a means
of providing Minnesota with the
best paved road system in America.

Enthusiasm over the proposal was
voiced by the half-thousand men assembled at the organization's initial
session.

Committees were chosen to nominate officers and to choose a name
for the organization. Another committee was appointed to draw up
resolutions which were to be presented to the delegates. The chief
resolution will set the organization
on record as approving the Babcock
plan, while another will favor greater co-operation between township
and county boards in the handling
of road matters.

"There is not sufficient co-operation at present between township
and county boards," Reynolds declared. "This results in waste roads."
"This meeting was called so that
try to reach a conclusion at what
should be done for the highways of Minnesota," Reynolds said after calling the meeting to order. "Last
June an organization known as No.
Seven Highway Association was organized at Waseca and it is from
this start that the present meeting
has grown. We are here to form a statewide organization to get behind
the Babcock plan."

"It is our endeavor to have the
next session of the legislature adopt
a $20,000,000 bond issue plan," Reynolds declared.

73-YEAR-OLD VETERAN PASSES

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 16.—(UP)—
Eddie Foy, 73 years old, veteran
of the American stage, died of heart disease at 8:45 A. M. today in his suite at Hotel Baltimore here. He was in Kansas City for an engagement this week at the Orpheum Theatre.

Foy took ill shortly after 5 A. M.
When his condition failed to show
improvement, Mrs. Foy, who accompanied the actor here, called a physician. Hypodermic injections were administered without results.

The actor regained consciousness
long enough to say farewell to his wife and Father Hennings, who had been summoned to perform the last
rites.

TWO BUNGALOWS AND WAREHOUSE WRECKED BY BOMBS

Chicago, Feb. 16.—(UP)—Two
bungalows and a warehouse were
wrecked by two high explosive
bombs here today. Both bombings were attributed to rivalry in
the liquor traffic. No one was injured.

A large stock of alcohol was
found in the basement of the bungalow of Edward O'Brien after the explosion there. The bomb tore
off the front of O'Brien's home and
damaged a bungalow next door.
O'Brien was held for federal authorities.

The other bomb exploded in a
warehouse on the south side. Alcohol in tins was found behind a
pile of furniture in the warehouse.

ARRESTED AT BORDER OF ROMANIA

NOUNCED THRONE

Vienna, Feb. 16.—(UP)—A second attempt of Prince Carol, whose young son is king of Rumania, to send a manifesto to his homeland
has been stopped, according to advice from Bucharest, through the arrest at the border of former General Rakowicz.

The arrest was considered a se-
quel to the arrest several months ago of M. Manoliescu, former undersecretary of finance for Rumania.
He was carrying a message from Prince Carol, who had renounced his
right to the throne while his father,
King Ferdinand, was still alive.

It was not until the arrest of Gen.
Rakowicz—who was said to be carrying the manifesto from Paris to Bucharest—that the prince again
figured in the delicate problems of Rumania. What the manifesto
contained could not be learned.

Coincidentally the national peas-
ants party met Tuesday at Carivo
and assailed the policies of the present Rumanian government. The liberal party also met Tuesday at Jassy and speakers said the throne
—under Carol's father—had not
been confident in the peasants.

Whether Prince Carol had timed
his manifesto with the meeting of
the peasants party was unknown.

Since the death of Bratianu, Carol
has been living quietly in his villa
in a suburb of Paris. It was presumed he had not been rejoined by
Mme. Lucescu, for whom he renounced his right to the throne.

BURGLAR STEALS GOLD CHALICE

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 16.—(UP)—
A burglar early today forced an entrance to Archbishop Curley's residence and stole a valuable gold chal-
ice that is generously studded with
jewels.

The precious cup was a gift from
the Catholics of Baltimore to the
late Cardinal Gibbons, on the occasion of Cardinal Gibbons' fiftieth
anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood. Diamonds set in one

charges.

yesterday Tom Plattner and Larry Wilkus of St. Paul entered pleas of

Falls.

SOUTH AND MIDDLE
WEST

WILL THROW HIM INTO ACTIVE
FIGHT AGAINST GOV.
AL SMITH

Washington, Feb. 16.—A Reed-
Smith contest is promising to develop
in democratic ranks along with the Hoover-Willis war now progressing
among Republicans.

Sen. James A. Reed of Missouri
will set out tomorrow night on a
speaking tour which will carry him
into the south and middle west and
may take him to the Pacific coast,
the United Press learned today. The
stump trip is counted upon by Reed's
friends to throw him into an active
fight to get the democratic presidential nomination against Gov. Al
Smith of New York.

Reed will speak at Dallas, Texas,
next Monday and at Tulsa, Okla.,
Tuesday. He will then go to Kansas City for another speaking engagement where the remainder of
his tour will be arranged.

Reed's friends plan to put him in
the primary races in many states
chance to get delegates.

They have abandoned the old policy of passive campaigning which
would be best to hold back until
after Smith had a run in the Houston convention.

The southern trip is being under-
taken following a movement among
southern congressional delegations
here to get Reed named as second
choice to their various favorite sons.
This step is designed to prevent delegates from being influenced to go to the south after the early favorite

Bitterness in the Hoover-Willis
battle was manifest again today with
publication of correspondence between Sen. Willis of Ohio and Maurice Maschke, republican national committeeman, who switched from Willis to Herbert Hoover.

Willis made a threat in a letter to Maschke that he would, as senator,
see that Maschke got no more patronage or privileges which arise ordinarily from harmony between a
senator and a national committee-
man working in harmony. The senator attributed the pro-Hoover opposition to him in Ohio to Willis's
strong dry views. He pledged himself to work for a bone dry plank in
the republican platform.

Willis' statements were made in
answer to Maschke's letter stating Maschke considered endorsement of Hoover imperative to party success
in Ohio. Republicans of his district
are demanding Hoover and their wishes could not be ignored, Maschke
stated.

GAINS FIRST RESPITE FROM HIS
TIONS

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 16.—(UP)—
Col. Charles A. Lindbergh slipped
behind a cloud of obscurity today for
the first respite from public functions since he went hunting some
weeks back in Panama.

For the next four days the good-
will ambassador wants and will be permitted to be just plain "Slim"
Lindbergh of the air-mail service,
browsing around old haunts renew-
ing ties interrupted by his world
tour.

The "Lone Eagle's" next public
appearance will come Monday when
he throws his increasingly important
support to the air-mail with a flight
over the St. Louis-Chicago route.
Several thousand pounds of air-mail
that day will bear a special commemorative post-mark.

EVERSZ PORTRAYS LINCOLN'S LIFE

Sums up Decades of Progress in Noted President's Renowned Career

AT HI-Y CLUB MEET

Urges no Comparison as to Superiority Between Lincoln, Washington

Abraham Lincoln's advancement in life from a rail splitter to president was outlined by Rev. Morris L. Eversz in an address to the Hi-Y club at its regular meeting last night.

Summing up the great emancipator's life, Rev. Eversz told the boys to remember that at the end of Lincoln's first decade he was a rail splitter, at the end of a second, a river pilot with vengeance sworn against the slave menace, at the end of the third, a soldier, at the end of the fourth, a lawyer, and at the end of the fifth, president elect.

The speaker warned the boys as students and Christians that no comparison should be made between Lincoln and Washington as to superiority. He advocated that each be placed in the realm of greatness and be allowed to remain there.

In his review of Lincoln's life, Mr. Eversz pointed out its significance to the people today.

LIONS SPONSOR TROOP

Scout Troop No. 8 Formed to Relieve Troop No. 1 Membership

Formation of a new scout troop in Brainerd to relieve the increasing membership of Troop No. 1, sponsored by the Moose Lodge came about last evening when the Lions club voted to sponsor the troop, to be known as Troop No. 8.

B. Perry Newton, scout executive explained that Troop No. 1 had increased its membership to such an extent that it was necessary to form an additional troop.

Lawrence Ericsson was named as troop leader. President I. C. Strout announced he would name his troop committee later.

Original scouts of Troop 5 now sponsored by the Congregational troop were at one time members of Troop 1 sponsored at that time by the Methodist church.

Swedish Bethany Church

Rev. Constantine Olson will speak at the mid-week service tonight in the parsonage basement room at the Swedish Bethany church at 7:30 o'clock.

Mothers, Do This—

When the children cough, rub Musterole on their throats and chests. No telling how soon the symptoms may develop into croup, or worse. And then when you're glad you have a jar of Musterole at hand to give prompt relief. As first aid, Musterole is excellent. Keep a jar ready for instant use.

It is the remedy for adults, too. Relieves sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, chilblains, frosted feet and colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

TALENTED PUPILS WILL MAKE DEBUT

Recital Arranged by Mrs. W. A. M. Johnstone for Four Promising Artists, February 28

1ST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Bernice LeMire, Virginia Halliday, Edyth Brandt, Kathryn Albright to Appear

Many have feared that the radio would banish musical talent from the home and that the days were over when the entire family would gather round the piano for a vesper service or to sing college or popular songs, accompanied by the most talented pianist in the family. To prevent such a distinctive social loss by discovering and encouraging musical talent should be the aim of every conscientious music teacher.

It is fortunate that Brainerd is blessed with just that kind of a teacher, who is performing a real social service in giving her talented pupils a formal musical debut. Mrs. W. A. M. Johnstone is planning to bring out four of her most talented pupils on February 28, at the First Congregational church.

The talent of one of these young ladies was not discovered by Mrs. Johnstone. That credit is probably due to the members of the Minneapolis symphony orchestra whose summer homes are in the vicinity of Pequot. She had the unusual distinction of being chosen to accompany these members in their numbers given at the county fair, and they encouraged her to develop her talent. Her name is Bernice LeMire—a charming little French girl. Not so little, either, and perhaps the French is generations back, but there's no question about her talent.

Another out-of-town pupil of Mrs. Johnstone's will make a local appeal because she is the niece of one of Brainerd's most popular merchants, John Bye. This is Virginia Halliday, of Staples. She is said to possess, besides musical talent, that much discussed elusive thing called charm.

The youngest debutante is from Pillager, Edyth Brandt, who is said to be something of a musical prodigy. At least she shows unusual musicianship for her fourteen years.

And last, but not least, is Kathryn Albright who will make her debut as a soloist by giving two groups of piano solos. Mrs. Johnstone has wisely catered to the demand for variety in this radio age by having quartette numbers on two pianos, duos, and solos. Further variety will be added by an organ accompaniment to the last number which will be written and played by Mrs. Louis Kundsen, and Mrs. Knudsen lends artistic distinction to any program.

The regular board meeting of the League of Women Voters was held at the home of Mrs. Dean White, Tuesday afternoon. Lincoln and His Lessons in Living

A long while ago—when copper toed boots and pelticoats and chinolines were in style—a gawky country boy grew to manhood in a log cabin in Indiana. All around him were other boys who grumbled over the "lack of opportunity now-a-days" and while they were talking about it Lincoln obtained an education, managed a nation during war days and still found time to be wonderfully human withal.

Probably when Our Founder started his first store in Wyoming, there were plenty of men to show him how impossible it was to succeed. Human nature hasn't changed very much since the '60's, nor since the beginning of time for that matter. The world still keeps its greatest rewards for those who travel the dusty road of individual effort, whether their work be managing a nation or a retail store.

This week let us honor not Lincoln alone, but the great lessons in living he has left behind.

Lincoln and His Lessons in Living

A long while ago—when copper toed boots and pelticoats and chinolines were in style—a gawky country boy grew to manhood in a log cabin in Indiana. All around him were other boys who grumbled over the "lack of opportunity now-a-days" and while they were talking about it Lincoln obtained an education, managed a nation during war days and still found time to be wonderfully human withal.

Probably when Our Founder started his first store in Wyoming, there were plenty of men to show him how impossible it was to succeed. Human nature hasn't changed very much since the '60's, nor since the beginning of time for that matter. The world still keeps its greatest rewards for those who travel the dusty road of individual effort, whether their work be managing a nation or a retail store.

This week let us honor not Lincoln alone, but the great lessons in living he has left behind.

THE VALUE OF ADVERTISING

THE Hankinson News carried this admirable editorial on the value of advertising and it contains so many good points that the Dispatch reproduces it in full:

Occasionally we see a man in business—actually trying to establish a business—who says he does not advertise because he would have to increase his prices if he did.

It is not often we see such a man in business because a man with such limited business vision seldom remains in business long enough to be seen.

The truth of the matter is that the merchant who does not advertise and increase his volume of sales must increase his prices on the limited amount of stuff he sells and actually charge more than the merchant who by the use of regular advertising turns his goods three or four times to the other fellow's once. It is simply the old story of the nimble nickel.

The nationally advertised brands of goods with few exceptions, are the best and lowest-priced products that we can buy to-day. The big busy store advertises and draws trade for miles around is always the best and cheapest place to trade, and has always been so.

No one ever hears it said of the big mail-order houses that their great advertising expenditures in sending out millions of catalogs and follow-up literature, including large monthly supplements on groceries, clothing, dry goods, shoes, furniture, hardware, farm implements, paints, wall paper, etc., made them charge more for their goods.

But you do hear just the opposite. Ask any farmer who buys goods of a mail-order house why he patronizes them and he will tell that he believes he does a little better in the way of price. If you ask him why their prices are lower than the local stores he will tell you that it is because of the great amount of business they do through sending out catalogs and other advertising matter regularly to every farm home throughout the country.

The home newspaper affords the only effective means of counteracting the trade-pulling influence of these mail-order catalogs in taking business away from your home community.

By the use of regular space in the local paper a merchant can soon educate the home folks to appreciate the fact that he is doing everything he can to serve them to the very best of his ability. This cannot be done as quickly and successfully in any other manner than by advertising.

Advertising is the economic factor of business. Without it few buyers would know of the exceptional values offered and the turnover would be reduced to almost nothing. Merchants would be compelled to increase their prices in order to remain in business and higher prices would mean fewer buyers and business failure to those merchants who have not taken the time to study and learn the real value of persistent advertising.

Of course there are some moochers in business who get by on the other fellow's advertising and efforts to boost business and keep it at home.

ST. CLOUD EXTENDING CITY LIMITS

AN editorial in the Dispatch commenting on the fact that the St. Cloud Daily Journal-Press had appropriated for St. Cloud the Brainerd slogan, "Gateway to the 10,000 Lakes", and also putting a crimp into geography by claiming St. Cloud to be near the geographical center of the state, drew this fire from the Little Falls Daily Transcript, which said:

"Nothing. St. Cloud claims everything from Minneapolis north, and, begosh, they seem to be getting away with it too. Just so long as local people are foolish enough to do their trading in the Granite City, these southern neighbors will indicate to the world that Brainerd and Little Falls are but small community centers on highways radiating from St. Cloud."

The St. Cloud Journal-Press made this reply:

"The Brainerd Dispatch, after complimenting the Journal-Press on its 'wonderful hospital edition,' enters a protest that St. Cloud is trying to appropriate Brainerd's claim of being the gateway to Minnesota's ten thousand lakes. The gateway, dear Dispatch, is the entrance to what lies beyond. Brainerd may rightfully insist that it is near the geographical center of the state, but it is not the entrance to Minnesota's lake country. The counties south of Brainerd, Benton, Stearns, Morrison and Todd, have many beautiful lakes, and west from St. Cloud, through to Douglas and Otter Tail a greater number, to reach which Brainerd is far out the way. We will grant Brainerd the more central location in Minnesota, but not its gateway by some ninety miles."

TO INSTRUCT IN MATRIMONY

BRAINERD high school recently started a class in home economics, 34 girls and matrons entering to be instructed in this most important branch. The Brainerd innovation has received favorable comment in many quarters and the class is pursuing its work with enthusiasm.

Now comes Northwestern University and appropriates the lime light and one of its professors urges the establishment of a department for instruction in matrimony. The promoter of this idea is Professor A. J. Todd, head of the department of sociology.

"As a co-educational institution one of our functions is to study the problem of human matrimony," says Prof. Todd.

"Students learn the laws of heredity in mice and guinea pigs, but come out of college with no knowledge of sex and matrimony, the subjects on which they will spend most of their time and money."

Todd, in his statement, has denounced "companionate marriage" as "a covering for sexual shopping or promiscuity, an excuse for personal dereliction."

"It simply seeks to apply the commercial theory of buying on suspicion," he said.

This instruction on matrimony may be very opportune in this Leap Year of 1928.

TWENTY pairs of "tar baby" muskrats have been acquired by the Ten Thousand Lakes Fur Farm corporation from a dealer in Pennsylvania. The rats, which are pure black, will be placed on the firm's Battle Creek ranch after they have been displayed at the Elks' Industrial show at the St. Paul auditorium, February 27 to March 3.

BRAINERD high school basketball team closed its conference season at Aitkin last night by defeating Aitkin and Brainerd continues the undefeated champion of the eleventh district.

Dolores Costello in "OLD SAN FRANCISCO" is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

The broad acres of Don Hernandez Vasquez and his beautiful granddaughter Dolores are coveted by Buckwell, San Francisco boss. His lawyer, Brandon, fails to make Vasquez sell. Brandon's nephew, Terry, loves Dolores. Buckwell plans to force Vasquez and grant Terry Vasquez and offers aid. Vasquez won't listen and tells him Dolores must marry young Spaniard. Heartbroken, Terry tries to forget her by a wild night along Barbary Coast. Dolores seeks Terry's aid in saving ranch, but returns home disillusioned when she finds him on drunken party. Buckwell witnessed her visit and, intrigued, goes to Vasquez ranch.

CHAPTER IX—Continued

"No trouble at all, besides I could endure many troubles for the privilege of coming to the Chapel to worship, and perhaps to see you—and your Grandfather," he added hastily. "And, by the way, I am afraid he is in no condition to go to the city now." Her trusting loveliness had inspired him with a mad desire to get her away from the ranch and alone with himself. Dolores looked at her Grandfather, obviously troubled. "The excitement might bring on another stroke—is it absolutely necessary for him to go?" turning around she found Buckwell's dark eyes watching her.

In a flash he changed his expression to an impersonal frown. "It may be necessary for some member of the family to sign an application at the Court House for permission to—"

to—examine the records. The sooner that is done the better, of course."

Buckwell knew that this was a lame excuse. He watched Dolores to see if he was getting away with it and felt relieved when she nodded in assent.

"I—I would do anything to help if you think I could sign the application?" She paused.

Buckwell looked up quickly from his pretended contemplation of the papers and hiding his satisfaction with a matter of fact nod, said: "Certainly you could—and perhaps you'd take tea with me—we could stop at the Crystal Palace on the way."

Dolores had no desire to accept the invitation. Last night's experience in San Francisco was too hideous, and she was perfectly willing to remain ignorant of life along the Cocktail Route; besides, she hated to leave her Grandfather when he felt so miserable.

"I will go with you to sign the papers, but must hurry back to Grandfather—thank you just the same for the tea party invitation."

"It would not take more than a few minutes and I am sure you would enjoy the Crystal Palace—I would like to have the honor of showing it to you."

His kindness and regret were so evident that Dolores hesitated. He was doing so much for them that she probably had no right to consider her own feelings in the matter and refuse. There was no one else she could turn to—her Grandfather was sick. Don Luis had pleaded other engagements and Terry—well, Dolores did not like to think of the way she had found him spending his time. Any minute she and her Grandfather might be forced from their home and it going to take with Senator Buckwell would make him work any harder to help them she would go.

Buckwell gathered up the papers and followed her example by rising. "I am at your disposal—when ever you are ready!"

"In only a few moments, then." She fairly skipped from the room in her haste to have the trip over.

Following her with his eyes, Buckwell gloated over her graceful figure and charming youthful innocence. It had been a long time since he had taken such pains to make plans that included a woman. He smiled—partly at himself and partly in anticipation of the pleasures that would be his within the hour.

Upon leaving the room, Dolores lost no time in seeking their only servant. "It is necessary that I go to town. Kindly look after Grandfather and if he should have another attack try and reach me—some way—I shall be at the Crystal Palace and the Court House with Senator Buckwell."

The old peon stood aghast with mouth open at the mere thought of a daughter of the Vasquez going out in this unconventional manner. He crossed himself devoutly and implored the Good Mother to watch over his mistress—two trips to the city in as many days! It was unheard of.

But Dolores had not waited to see what he thought. Quickly possessing herself of a shawl and parasol she hastened back to the living room and stood looking at her Grandfather with a mingling of love, pity and regret that she must leave. Gently lifting his feet to a stool, so that he was stretched out in a more comfortable position, she spread a soft blanket over his knees, placed a pillow at his side and after a light kiss on his brow, turned away to hide the tears. He was all she had in the world and he felt so miserable!

"I am ready," she announced, joining Buckwell at the mantel where he had been examining the Vasquez sword and trophies with utter contempt.

"Ready?" he repeated as if pre-occupied. "Ah, yes, to be sure!" He turned toward her and his eyes opened in surprise.

"Ready indeed—ready for him!" he thought to himself. She was far more beautiful than the most notorious celebrity of the city and in addition to being lovely it was plain to see that life had taught her nothing of the ways of men. Controlling his rampant, hidden thoughts, Buckwell finished pleasantly. "Then shall we leave?"

"Yes, please," agreed Dolores, and she permitted Buckwell to assist her down the short steps and into his carriage. It had been at the side of the road, awaiting his signal for quite some time.

Back in the living room Vasquez slept soundly and on the table the open lid of the strong box revealed the fact that the age old land grant documents were gone. They were in Buckwell's pocket and as the carriage jogged along he decided that they, as well as the young girl by his side, were to remain in his possession—as long as he wanted them.

CHAPTER X
The Trap Is Sprung

Chris Buckwell did not own a carriage. He felt that his whereabouts could not be so easily noted when he summoned public hack to carry him to appointments.

But he always insisted upon immaculate modern equipment and fast horses. He found the latter far more satisfactory than the automobile which was growing in popularity with his political contemporaries.

Dolores' second trip to the City was consequently effected in less time than the regrettable experience of her call on Terry.

Do you come into San Francisco often?" inquired Buckwell watching closely through narrowed eyes.

"Grandfather has never permitted such trips," she replied truthfully after a moment's hesitation. "You see it is customary for Spanish women to remain at home."

She had decided that the hideous experience of the Poodle Dog was her own secret—she was too ashamed of the incident to ever mention it to anyone.

"And do Spanish girls always adhere to their native customs and paternal dictates?" asked Buckwell in a tone that invited confidence. He was curious about why she went to Frisco on the previous night. Buckwell abhorred reticence in a woman.

"I don't know," replied Dolores uneasily, "but I prefer to remain at the hacienda—Oh, you can save it for us, can't you?"

"With your help, my dear, I am sure that your Grandfather will be able to spend the rest of his days there."

Buckwell's hidden meaning was lost on Dolores. How could she have guessed that he wanted her in return for relinquishing his plans to seize the estate?

"It is so good of you to help us!" she said warmly, and for the first time relaxed her rigid position in the corner of the carriage.

Buckwell noticed and with an effort restrained himself from grasping her graceful hands and drawing her toward him. There was a time and place for everything and both would come a little later.

"Beau Sabreur" Proves Excellent Photodrama at Lyceum

Intrigue, love and adventures on the vast Sahara desert offer something spectacularly and refreshingly attractive in the line of motion picture entertainment at the Lyceum theatre today and Friday, when Paramount's new production, "Beau Sabreur," is being shown.

With a cast of sterling quality, unusual direction and more unusual photography, "Beau Sabreur" comes to this city as a companion to "Beau Geste." Both were from the pen of Percival Christopher Wren, whose stories of the desert and the Foreign Legion have proved best sellers everywhere.

The POLICY of PROGRESS

A STATEMENT by GENERAL MOTORS

It is the policy of General Motors to maintain continuous improvement, in every one of its car divisions, with no interruption in production.

This means that you enjoy the benefits of new engineering developments promptly—just as soon as they have been thoroughly tested on the 1245-acre Proving Ground.

It means that you can now order the new Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Oakland, Buick, LaSalle, Cadillac, or GMC Truck, and receive immediate delivery.

Behind this policy of continuous improvement is an organization so widespread and resourceful that it can make and sell quality automobiles more economically than any automobile manufacturer in the world.

In the north and south it logs and mills its own lumber. In the east it makes its own ball bearings and radiators. In the middle west it produces its own plate glass. Its plants are busy in 33 important American cities.

From almost 5,000 suppliers, its materials are obtained—steel by the hundreds of thousands of tons—wire by the tens of thousands of miles—upholstery by the acre—nuts, bolts and washers by the millions. Its sales and service take place through 33,000 dealers. More than 275,000 families look directly to General Motors for their livelihood—almost a million and a half men, women and children in every community in the land.

Meaning so much to so many, General Motors has felt a supreme obligation to look ahead.

Are there methods by which General Motors cars can be better built to better serve?

Are there new ideas which can increase the utility and pleasure and safety of motoring?

Such are the questions that all General Motors engineers have always asked. The answers have made it possible, year after year, to offer an increasing measure of beauty in design, modern performance, riding comfort and distinct style. Thus in every price class, from Cadillac to Chevrolet, purchasers are constantly benefiting from the General Motors policy of progress.

"It would not take more than a few minutes and I am sure you would enjoy the Crystal Palace—I would like to have the honor of showing it to you."

His kindness and regret were so evident that Dolores hesitated. He was doing so much for them that she probably had no right to consider her own feelings in the matter and refuse. There was no one else she could turn to—her Grandfather was sick, Don Luis had pleaded other engagements and Terry—well, Dolores did not like to think of the way she had found him spending his time. Any minute she and her Grandfather might be forced from their home and if going to tea with Senor Buckwell would make him work any harder to help them she would go.

She fairly skipped from the room in her haste to have the trip over.

Following her with his eyes, Buckwell gloated over her graceful figure and charming youthful innocence. It had been a long time since he had taken such pains to make plans that included a woman. He smiled—partly at himself and partly in anticipation of the pleasures that would be his within the hour.

Upon leaving the room Dolores lost no time in seeking their only servant. "It is necessary that I go to town. Kindly look after Grandfather and if he should have another attack try and reach me—some way—I shall be at the Crystal Palace and the Court House with Senor Buckwell."

The old peon stood aghast with mouth open at the mere thought of a daughter of the Vasquez going out in this unconventional manner. He crossed himself devoutly and implored the Good Mother to watch over his mistress—two trips to the city in as many days! It was unheard of.

But Dolores had not waited to see what he thought. Quickly possessing herself of a shawl and parasol she hastened back to the living room and stood looking at her Grandfather with a mingling of love, pity and regret that she must leave. Gently lifting his feet to a stool, so that he was stretched out in a more comfortable position, she spread a soft blanket over his knees, placed a pillow at his side and after a light kiss on his brow turned away to hide the tears. He was all she had in the world and he felt so miserable!

"Ready?" he repeated as he pre-occupied. "Ah, yes, to be sure!" He turned toward her and his eyes opened in surprise.

"Ready indeed—ready for him!" he thought to himself. She was far more beautiful than the most notorious celebrity of the city and in addition to being lovely it was plain to see that life had taught her nothing of the ways of men. Controlling his rampant, hidden thoughts, Buckwell finished pleasantly, "Then shall we leave?"

"Yes, please," agreed Dolores, and she permitted Buckwell to assist her down the short steps and into his carriage. It had been at the side of the road, awaiting his signal for quite some time.

Back in the living room Vasquez slept soundly and on the table the open lid of the strong box revealed the fact that the age old land grant documents were gone. They were in Buckwell's pocket and as the carriage jogged along he decided that they, as well as the young girl by his side, were to remain in his possession—as long as he wanted them.

CHAPTER X

The Trap Is Sprung

Chris Buckwell did not own a carriage. He felt that his whereabouts could not be so easily spotted when he summoned a public hack to carry him to appointments.

But he always insisted upon immaculate modern equipment and fast horses. He found the latter far more satisfactory than the automobile which was growing in popularity with his political contemporaries.

Dolores' recent trip to the City was consequently effected in less time than the regrettable experience of her call on Terry.

"Do you come into San Francisco often?" inquired Buckwell watching closely through narrowed eyes.

"Grandfather has never permitted such trips," she replied truthfully after a moment's hesitation.

"You see it is customary for Spanish women to remain at home." She had decided that the hideous experience of the Poodle Dog was her own secret—she was too ashamed of the incident to ever mention it to anyone.

"And do Spanish girls always adhere to their native customs and paternal dictates?" asked Buckwell in a tone that invited confidence. He was curious about why she went to Frisco on the previous night. Buckwell abhorred reticence in a woman.

"I don't know," replied Dolores uneasily, "but I prefer to remain at the hacienda—Oh, you can save it for us, can't you?"

"With your help, my dear, I am sure that your Grandfather will be able to spend the rest of his days there."

Buckwell's hidden meaning was lost on Dolores. How could she have guessed that he wanted her in return for relinquishing his plans to seize the estate?

Buckwell noticed and with an effort restrained himself from grasping her graceful hands and drawing her toward him. There was a time and place for everything and both would come a little later. (To be continued.)

"Beau Sabreur" Proves Excellent Photodrama at Lyceum

Intrigue, love and adventures on the vast Sahara desert offer something spectacularly and refreshingly attractive in the line of motion picture entertainment at the Lyceum theatre today and Friday, where Paramount's new production, "Beau Sabreur," is being shown.

With a cast of sterling quality, unusual direction and more unusual photography, "Beau Sabreur" comes to this city as a companion to "Beau Geste." Both were from the pen of Percival Christopher Wren, whose stories of the desert and the Foreign Legion have proved best sellers everywhere.

The POLICY of PROGRESS

A STATEMENT by GENERAL MOTORS

It is the policy of General Motors to maintain continuous improvement, in every one of its car divisions, with no interruption in production.

This means that you enjoy the benefits of new engineering developments promptly—just as soon as they have been thoroughly tested on the 1245-acre Proving Ground.

It means that you can now order the new Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Oakland, Buick, LaSalle, Cadillac, or GMC Truck, and receive immediate delivery.

Behind this policy of continuous improvement is an organization so widespread and resourceful that it can make and sell quality automobiles more economically than any automobile manufacturer in the world.

In the north and south it logs and mills its own lumber. In the east it makes its own ball bearings and radiators. In the middle west it produces its own plate glass. Its plants are busy in 33 important American cities.

From almost 5,000 suppliers, its materials are obtained—steel by the hundreds of thousands of tons—wire by the tens of thousands of miles—upholstery by the acre—nuts, bolts and washers by the millions. Its sales and service take place through 33,000 dealers. More than 275,000 families look directly to General Motors for their livelihood—almost a million and a half men, women and children in every community in the land.

Meaning so much to so many, General Motors has felt a supreme obligation to look ahead.

Are there methods by which General Motors cars can be better built to better serve?

Are there new ideas which can increase the utility and pleasure and safety of motoring?

Are there new materials which can add to owner satisfaction?

Such are the questions that all General Motors engineers have always asked. The answers have made it possible, year after year, to offer an increasing measure of beauty in design, modern performance, riding comfort and distinct style. Thus in every price class, from Cadillac to Chevrolet, purchasers are constantly benefiting from the General Motors policy of progress.

Brainerd—undefeated conference champions. Finishing the conference schedule in a blaze of glory, characteristic of their play throughout the season, the Brainerd high school last evening further proved their ability as basket tossers by trimming the Aitkin boys on the Aitkin high school floor by the count of 32 to 8.

It climaxed a conference schedule that is destined to make cage history for this city. Seven wins and no losses is the record, one which few teams in the state can equal this season.

The honor is further strengthened by the fact that the conference teams this year were no set-ups. Crosby-Ironton is a capable contender for any title while Wadena refuses to take a back seat to any.

Uncovering of basketball talent by Coach Warren Kasch in pupils who heretofore have shown no startling knowledge of the game, is credited as an important factor in the successful progress of the team.

Coach Kasch, to whom much credit is due for the unprecedented success of the team, formed his squad almost entirely from new material. To start with one regular letterman and two substitutes from last year's team were used to build up the personnel of a speedy, well trained quint. Strict training rules were enforced and the team on several occasions distinguished itself by overcoming a lead and winning in the second half.

Brainerd has a very good chance of becoming tournament winners this year. In their struggle for the championship every citizen of Brainerd should back them to the greatest degree.

The score by quarters last night shows a steady increase in the score as the game progressed. Brainerd scored one field basket in the first quarter while Aitkin secured one free throw. In the second quarter the Brainerd score boosted to nine points while Aitkin added a field goal to their tally. The third quarter ended with Brainerd leading by the count of 16 to 8. The last quarter saw Brainerd score eight field goals in rapid succession while the opponents were held scoreless.

Welliver was unable to accompany the team on account of sickness. Wise was high point man with a total of five field goals and two free throws. Guin came in for three field goals and three free throws.

'FOUL' HAZARD TAKEN UP IN BOXING GAME

ILLINOIS BOXING COMMISSION TO REFINER NOBLE PASTIME

SEEK RULE MAKING IT IMPOS-SIBLE FOR BOXER TO WIN ON FOUL

By BERT M. DEMBY (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, Feb. 16.—(UP)—The Illinois boxing commission has set about to add to the refinement of the boxing fighting by eliminating the "foul" hazard.

The commission believes that a spectator, who pays money to see a fight, does not receive his money's worth when a match is stopped because of a foul.

With this idea in mind, Paul Prehn, of the commission, seeks a rule which would make it impossible for a fighter to win on a foul.

Then, too, the belief was expressed that as long as fights are won or lost on fouls, the general refinement of the boxing profession will be delayed.

He dismissed a suggestion that the commission publish a picture book, illustrating the objectionable blows. He believes the boxing profession has now reached a stage where most fighters can read and do not have to have pictures drawn for them.

"Many times," Prehn said, "the public is cheated out of seeing a good fight by a hasty foul ruling. We think it is better for the referee to consult with the judges who in turn shall consult with a doctor, before a ruling is made. There are times when a fighter, if given a short rest, is perfectly competent to continue. I recall one instance when I made a fighter go back in the ring after he claimed he was fouled. When I threatened to take away his purse he gladly went in and beat the other boy."

"We think the public is entitled to its money's worth. Fights won on fouls are not value received. For that reason we believe in making

BATTER'S CHOICE OF RUNNING TO FIRST OR THIRD

SOUTHPAW HITTERS RUN TO FIRST, RIGHT HANDED TO THIRD

Berkeley, Calif., Feb. 16.—(UP)—The University of California baseball team and the Ambrose Taylor's team played a game Wednesday under Karl Zambloch's proposed revolutionary rules which allow the batter to choose whether he shall run to first or third, with amazing and very confusing results. California won 11 to 10.

About half the batters ran to first and the other half to third. The southpaw hitters, as a rule, ran to first and the right handed batters to third.

Under the Zambloch rules when a runner is on base subsequent runners must follow the route he took. When Nenechek came to bat Wyatt was on third having chosen to run that way. Then he stole second and Nenechek forgot all about him and ambled down the first base line. When he touched the bag the umpire called him out. He should have run to third.

Kansas City, Kans.—"Tiny" Roebuck, Kansas City, knocked out "Big Boy" Peterson, Minneapolis, first round; Leo Wax, Sydney, Australia, defeated Spider Kelly, Kansas City, ten rounds; Tommy Maroon, Kansas City, outpointed Frankie Polusa, Salt Lake City, ten rounds.

Fighters continue when they aren't hurt. One of the best things that can happen to the boxing profession would be the elimination of the foul. Of course if a man is deliberately fouled he is entitled to the fight, but those cases are few."

Prehn admits that a general refinement of the boxing game might make a ruling unnecessary. He believes it inconceivable that one member of the cauliflower racket would deliberately foul another member of the cauliflower racket, if both members were gentlemen.

TIRED WAITING FOR REPLY TO PROTEST MADE

AMERICANS AT ST. MORITZ OBJECT TO CANCELLATION OF AWARD

St. Moritz, Switzerland, Feb. 16.—(UP)—Tired of waiting for a reply to their protest against cancellation of the proposed award of the 10,000-metres race to Irving Jaffee, the United States Olympic skating team left St. Moritz at 8:45 A. M. today.

It was announced last night the team would stay here until the international committee answered the protest.

The winter games of the ninth Olympiad were resumed today when the Olympic committee decided the ice was in good enough condition for skating.

Switzerland qualified for the final round by beating Germany, 1-0.

On the basis of goal averages, Sweden and Canada already had qualified.

The fourth team in the final round will be the winner of this afternoon's game between Great Britain and Hungary.

Before the American skaters left, Gustavus T. Kirby, of the American Olympic committee, told newspapermen:

"As far as we are concerned we consider Jaffee the Olympic champion. I can not say what our next step will be, but I understand the United States will file a protest with the international Olympic committee within a month, and will demand a final decision before the start of the Olympics at Amsterdam."

SAMMY BAKER TO FACE THE WILD CAT OF NEBRASKA

MANAGERS AND PROMOTER EXPECT BAKER WILL BE BEATEN

HUDKINS THEN TO BE MATCHED WITH BIG JOE DUNDEE

By FRANK GETTY (United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Feb. 16.—Sergeant Sammy Baker, a diminutive soldier boy from Mitchell Field, squint-eyed and lop-eared from too many punches encountered in a long career of fistbuffs, will essay a familiar role at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

Sergeant Sammy will try to upset the best laid plans of several managers and a promoter, who have arranged one of the most promising grudge fights in recent months.

The plans of these gentlemen call for Baker to be beaten by one Ace Hudkins, a tawny Nebraska wild-cat among the welterweights, after which said wild-cat is to be matched with the world's champion, Joe Dundee.

Recalling how Joe kept him cooling his heels in a Los Angeles ring one night last year, while the angry remonstrance of the crowd rose from a growl to a roar and finally took the form of a demonstration which wrecked the arena, Hudkins has been on the champion's trail for many months.

Max Waxman, Dundee's manager, and Art Hudkins, who handled his carrot-topped brother's business affairs, all but came to blows up at Madison Square Garden yesterday. When Jess McMahon, Tex Rickard's match maker, pried them apart he marched them into his office and signed Joe to meet Ace on March 23, 15 rounds, 147 pounds ringside, for the welterweight championship of the world.

But there was an "if" in the contract. The match is as good as made—"if" Hudkins defeats Baker tomorrow night.

One trouble with Sergeant Sammy, in the eyes of a good many boys in his division, is that he objects to being beaten.

Baker has a way of spoiling everyone's plans by knocking over some perfectly nice boy who would be most useful to everyone concerned in the business of making money out of the fight business.

If Sammy turns the trick again tomorrow night, it will not be the first time he has done so with this same Ace Hudkins as his victim.

A year ago, after Dundee had acquired the welterweight title by shading Pete Latzo in a slow bout, Tex Rickard planned a spectacular championship set to between the Nebraska Wildcat and the new and not over-popular title-holder.

Before Hudkins could be considered the "logical" challenger, as such things are looked at from a box office viewpoint, however, it was considered advisable for him to pop over Sergeant Sammy Baker, who had come to be regarded rather as one of the trial horses of the division than as a serious contender for the championship.

So confident was everyone concerned that Hudkins could dispose of Baker spectacularly, no less a personage than Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, the aviator, was invited to occupy a ringside seat. Lindy was not supposed to cheer for Sergeant Sammy, who is by way of being a fellow aviator, being in the air service, but for Hudkins, a fellow Nebraskan.

he had come to watch began to go up and down like the Spirit of St. Louis in bumpy weather over the Nicaraguan mountains. But it wasn't Baker who was taking the nose dives, the tail spins and the side slips. It was none other than the vaunted Ace himself, who was rapidly being knocked into the condition of a dirty deuce in a new deck when the referee stepped in and ended the slaughter.

KEARNS TO SEEK INJUNCTION AGAINST WALKER SUSPENSION

Los Angeles, Feb. 16.—(UP)—Jack Kearns will seek an injunction to prevent the "National Boxing Association" from effecting its suspension of Mickey Walker, he declared here.

"They suspended him did they?" Kearns asked, when informed of the action. "Well they can't do that. I'll get an injunction against them."

Kearns wasn't sure what form the injunction would take, but he insisted that that would be his action.

"Walker has been ready to defend the middleweight title any time a suitable contender was ready," he said. "I have practically signed him for a bout in Chicago."

New York, Feb. 16.—(UP)—Mickey Walker, world's middleweight champion, today was under suspension throughout "the realm of the National Boxing Association," as Thomas E. Donohue, the association's president, calls it.

In some score of states, Mickey may not fight, because he refused to obey an edict of the N. B. A. and sign for defense of his title before Feb. 15.

Sammy Mandell, lightweight champ, and Joe Dundee, welterweight king, escaped the wrath of the N. B. A. by signing for bouts, although no definite opponents were indicated.

'FOUL' HAZARD TAKEN UP IN BOXING GAME

ILLINOIS BOXING COMMISSION TO REFINES NOBLE PASTIME

SEEK RULE MAKING IT IMPOSIBLE FOR BOXER TO WIN ON FOUL

By BERT M. DEMBY (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, Feb. 16.—(UP)—The Illinois boxing commission has set about to add to the refinement of the boxing fighting by eliminating the "foul" hazard.

The commission believes that a spectator, who pays money to see a fight, does not receive his money's worth when a match is stopped because of a foul.

With this idea in mind, Paul Prehn, of the commission, seeks a rule which would make it impossible for a fighter to win on a foul.

Then, too, the belief was expressed that as long as fights are won or lost on fouls, the general refinement of the boxing profession will be delayed.

He dismissed a suggestion that the commission publish a picture book, illustrating the objectionable blows. He believes the boxing profession has now reached a stage where most fighters can read and do not have to have pictures drawn for them.

"Many times," Prehn said, "the public is cheated out of seeing a good fight by a hasty foul ruling. We think it is better for the referee to consult with the judges who in turn shall consult with a doctor, before a ruling is made. There are times when a fighter, if given a short rest, is perfectly competent to continue. I recall one instance when I made a fighter go back in the ring after he claimed he was fouled. When I threatened to take away his purse he gladly went in and beat the other boy."

"We think the public is entitled to its money's worth. Fights won on fouls are not value received. For that reason we believe in making

BATTER'S CHOICE OF RUNNING TO FIRST OR THIRD

SOUTHPAW HITTERS RUN TO FIRST, RIGHT HANDED TO THIRD

Berkeley, Calif., Feb. 16.—(UP)—The University of California baseball team and the Ambrose Taylor's team played a game Wednesday under Karl Zamoeh's proposed revolutionary rules which allow the batter to choose whether he shall run to first or third, with amazing and very confusing results. California won 11 to 10.

About half the batters ran to first and the other half to third. The southpaw hitters, as a rule, ran to first and the right handed batters to third.

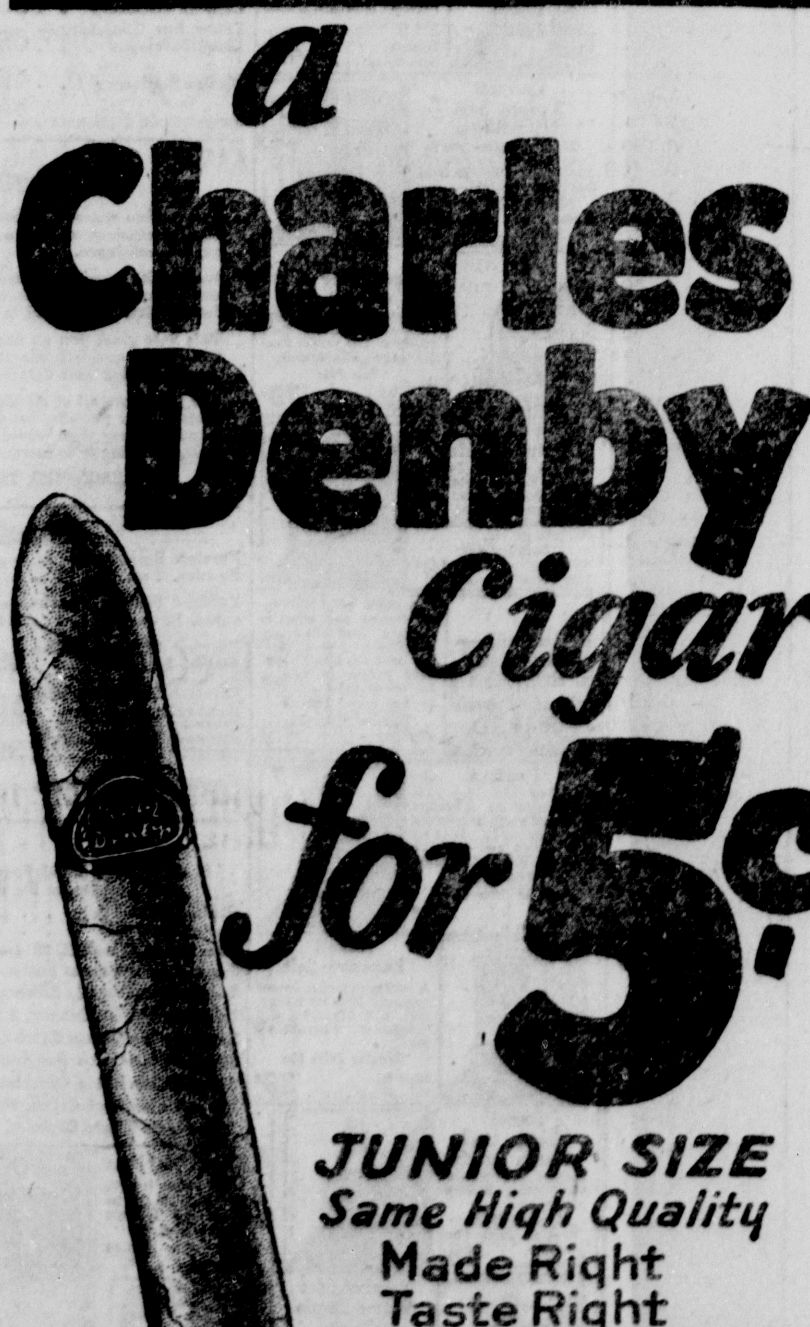

Jack Nenechek, varsity pitcher, knocked a home run, it was over the fence, but was called out.

Under the Zamoeh rules when a runner is on base subsequent runners must follow the route he took. When Nenechek came to bat Wyatt was on third having chosen to run that way. Then he stole second and Nenechek forgot all about him and ambled down the first base line. When he touched the bag the umpire called him out. He should have run to third.

fighters continue when they aren't hurt. One of the best things that can happen to the boxing profession would be the elimination of the foul. Of course if a man is deliberately fouled he is entitled to the fight, but those cases are few."

Prehn admits that a general refinement of the boxing game might make a ruling unnecessary. He believes it inconceivable that one member of the cauliflower racket would deliberately foul another member of the cauliflower racket, if both members were gentlemen.

AMERICANS AT ST. MORITZ OBJECT TO CANCELLATION OF AWARD

St. Moritz, Switzerland, Feb. 16.—(UP)—Tired of waiting for a reply to their protest against cancellation of the proposed award of the 10,000-metres race to Irving Jaffee, the United States Olympic skating team left St. Moritz at 8:45 A. M. today. It was announced last night the team would stay here until the international committee answered the protest.

The winter games of the ninth Olympiad were resumed today when the Olympic committee decided the ice was in good enough condition for skating.

In the ice hockey match Belgium defeated France 3-1.

Switzerland qualified for the final round by beating Germany, 1-0.

On the basis of goal averages, Sweden and Canada already had qualified.

The fourth team in the final round will be the winner of this afternoon's game between Great Britain and Hungary.

Before the American skaters left, Gustavus T. Kirby, of the American Olympic committee, told newspapermen:

"As far as we are concerned we consider Jaffee the Olympic champion. I can not say what our next step will be, but I understand the United States will file a protest with the international Olympic committee within a month, and will demand a final decision before the start of the Olympics at Amsterdam."

SAMMY BAKER TO FACE THE WILD CAT OF NEBRASKA

By FRANK GETTY (United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Feb. 16.—Sergeant Sammy Baker, a diminutive soldier boy from Mitchell Field, squint-eyed and lop-eared from too many punches encountered in a long career of fistcuffs, will essay a familiar role at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

Sergeant Sammy will try to upset the best laid plans of several managers and a promoter, who have arranged one of the most promising grudge fights in recent months.

The plans of these gentlemen call for Baker to be beaten by one Ace Hudkins, a tawny Nebraska wild-cat among the welterweights, after which said wild-cat is to be matched with the world's champion, Joe Dundee.

Recalling how Joe kept him cooling his heels in a Los Angeles ring one night last year, while the angry remonstrance of the crowd rose from a growl to a roar and finally took the form of a demonstration which wrecked the arena, Hudkins has been on the champion's trail for many months.

Max Waxman, Dundee's manager, and Art Hudkins, who handled his carrot-topped brother's business affairs, all but came to blows up at Madison Square Garden yesterday.

When Jess McMahon, Tex Rickard's

match maker, pried them apart he marched them into his office and signed Joe to meet Ace on March 23, 15 rounds, 147 pounds ringside, for the welterweight championship of the world.

But there was an "if" in the contract. The match is as good as made—"if" Hudkins defeats Baker tomorrow night.

One trouble with Sergeant Sammy, in the eyes of a good many boys in his division, is that he objects to being beaten.

Baker has a way of spoiling everyone's plans by knocking over some perfectly nice boy who would be most useful to everyone concerned in the business of making money out of the fight business.

If Sammy turns the trick again tomorrow night, it will not be the first time he has done so with this same Ace Hudkins as his victim.

A year ago, after Dundee had acquired the welterweight title by shading Pete Latzo in a slow bout, Tex Rickard planned a spectacular championship set to between the Nebraska Wildcat and the new and not over-popular title-holder.

Before Hudkins could be considered the "logical" challenger, as such things are looked at from a box office viewpoint, however, it was considered advisable for him to pop over Sergeant Sammy Baker, who had come to be regarded rather as one of the trial horses of the division than as a serious contender for the championship.

So confident was everyone concerned that Hudkins could dispose of Baker spectacularly, no less a personage than Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, the aviator, was invited to occupy a ringside seat. Lindy was not supposed to cheer for Sergeant Sammy, who is by way of being a fellow aviator, being in the air service, but for Hudkins, a fellow Nebraskan.

Well, Lindy arrived late and just as he made his way to the ringside, one of the contestants in the bout

he had come to watch began to go up and down like the Spirit of St. Louis in bumpy weather over the Nicaraguan mountains. But it wasn't Baker who was taking the nose dives, the tail spins and the side slips. It was none other than the vaunted Ace himself, who was rapidly being knocked into the condition of a dirty deuce in a new deck when the referee stepped in and ended the slaughter.

KEARNS TO SEEK INJUNCTION AGAINST WALKER SUSPENSION

Los Angeles, Feb. 16.—(UP)—Jack Kearns will seek an injunction to prevent the "National Boxing Association" from effecting its suspension of Mickey Walker, he declared here.

"They suspended him did they?" Kearns asked, when informed of the action. "Well they can't do that. I'll get an injunction against them."

Kearns wasn't sure what form the injunction would take, but he insisted that that would be his action.

New York, Feb. 16.—(UP)—Mickey Walker, world's middleweight champion, today was under suspension throughout "the realm of the National Boxing Association," as Thomas E. Donohue, the association's president, calls it.

In some score of states, Mickey may not fight, because he refused to obey an edict of the N. B. A. and sign for defense of his title before Feb. 15.

Sammy Mandell, lightweight champ, and Joe Dundee, welterweight king, escaped the wrath of the N. B. A. by signing for bouts, although no definite opponents were indicated.

MINING FIGURES OF THE COUNTY

Mine Inspector Reginald Nowell Gives His Annual Report on Cuyuna Iron Range

13 MINES WERE OPERATING

Total Number of Men Employed 1,080; Total Tonnage Shipped Was 1,921,760 Tons

Interesting figures are disclosed in the annual report made by Mining Inspector Reginald Nowell of Crosby. Thirteen mines were operated on the Cuyuna range and 27 were inactive.

The mining inspector made 220 inspections. The total of men employed on the range includes 1,080, of whom 454 worked underground, 166 on the surface, 378 in open pits, 23 in plants, and 59 in drilling operations.

The tonnage mined during the year was 2,004,467 tons. Shipments of ore amounted to 1,901,966 tons, while the sintered ore shipped amounted to 19,794 tons, making total shipments of 1,921,760 tons.

In mining operations 1,584,480 cubic yards of waste were removed. Fatal accidents were kept at a minimum. There were three underground and one in open pit work.

The number of plants on the range for treatment of iron ore includes one washing plant, two crushing plants, a drying plant and a sintering plant. The sintering plant crushes, washes and sinters ore. The drying plant also crushes ore.

Of the ore shipped during the season, 761,399 tons was iron ore and the remainder was manganese. This table shows the amount of ore which was beneficiated:

Statement of ore shipments and accident record from 1925 to 1927:

In 1926 tonnage shipped 2,097,427 tons; fatal accident one; lost time accidents 150; number of men employed 1,364.

FIREMAN KILLED AND ENGINEER INJURED IN TRAIN WRECK

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 16.—(UP)—The mid-day limited, fast Chicago and Alton passenger train, was wrecked at 7:20 o'clock last night about 15 miles east of here. The fireman was killed and the engineer injured. Thirty-seven passengers on the train escaped injury.

The train was traveling at a rate of speed of about 45 miles per hour when the wreck occurred. It is believed that the engine struck an obstruction on the track, or a rail was out of line.

BILL PROVIDES FOR PREVENTION OF RIVER FLOODS

3 MONTHS' INTENSIVE STUDY REPRESENTED IN THE MEASURE

CONTEMPLATES FLOOD CONTROL ON MISSISSIPPI TRIBU- TARIES

By THOMAS L. STOKES (United Press Staff Correspondent) Washington, Feb. 16.—More than three months of intensive study by the house flood control committee resulted today in a bill providing a comprehensive project for prevention of disastrous floods in the Mississippi valley to be paid for entirely by the federal government.

The measure, to be reported to the house today as the basis for legislation, goes beyond flood prevention in the Mississippi valley, and contemplates flood control on Mississippi tributaries and other streams as far removed as Alaska, New England and South Carolina. It also paves the way for electric power development through reservoirs constructed primarily for flood control.

The measure provides:

1. Direction of the project by the president.
2. Administration by a newly created commission of seven, the Mississippi valley flood control commission, to supplement the present Mississippi river commission.
3. Payment of flood control works by the federal government, without local contributions.

CHARM SCHOOL INSTRUCTS PUPILS IN CORRECT USAGE

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 16.—(UP)—If you want to be a lady, never ride on the left side in a taxicab when accompanied by a man, for a lady never rides anywhere except on the right, in accordance with the old adage, "a lady on the left is not a lady."

This is only one of the countless rules that co-eds at the University of Minnesota are repeating over to themselves today, or telling their less fortunate friends who failed to attend charm school conducted Wednesday at the campus.

Another thing the girls learned was that in crossing a street, the girl takes the boy's arm, never visa versa. When a man walks along the street with two women, he always keeps to the curb side of the walk, according to the first charm lesson.

MATRON BEATEN AND TORTURED BY TWO THUGS

Chicago, Feb. 16.—(UP)—Mrs. F. H. Mrs. Fitch, a former nurse in Dr. Rongetti's private hospital, was attacked in her home. She revealed the address of Earl Reed, former X-ray operator at the Rongetti hospital, and his wife, Hazel Reed, former head nurse.

Both Mrs. Reed and her husband said they had been threatened with death if they testified in the physician's trial.

SEN. WALSH IS DEFEATED IN UTILITIES PROBE

SENATE BY VOTE OF 46 TO 31 REFERS PROBE TO FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION

SUPPORTERS OF WALSH RESO- LUTION SAY COMMISSION WILL 'WHITEWASH' IT

By KENNETH CRAWFORD (United Press Staff Correspondent) Washington, Feb. 16.—Senator Walsh of Montana stood defeated today in his fight to have the senate investigate the public utilities industry.

The senate voted 46 to 31 late last night to order an inquiry by the federal trade commission instead.

The record vote was taken shortly before 10 P. M. on an amendment by Senator George of Georgia providing for investigation by the commission—an investigation which proponents of the original Walsh resolution had charged would be a "whitewash" of the public utilities.

It followed the most spectacular session of the present congress. Walsh and his constantly diminishing band of followers had attempted to delay action by a filibuster but their opponents refused to recess until a vote was taken.

Walsh forces made three motions to recess until noon today, the first losing by only two votes but the last showing increased strength for the opposition. Finally Walsh decided to abandon the fight.

The resolution as amended calls upon the trade commission to conduct a thorough investigation of public utility corporations engaged in interstate commerce, gathering its information at public hearings and reporting to the senate every 30 days.

Senator Black of Alabama proposed the amendment requiring public hearings, and it was accepted by

LESLIE LANDRUM, 11, JEFFERSON CITY, MO., VICTIM OF BURNS

LOST SKIN FROM HIS HIPS TO ANKLES, NEARLY 150 SQUARE INCHES

Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 16. — (UP) — Operations during which nearly four thousand pieces of skin will be grafted to Leslie Landrum, 11, will be necessary if the boy's life is to be saved, according to Dr. S. V. Bedford, surgeon at St. Mary's hospital here.

Landrum for days has been near death as a result of burns which took most of his skin from his ankles to his hips. Approximately 150 square inches of skin was burned. Physicians said the only hope for recovery was in grafting skin on the burned area. Volunteers were called for.

There was immediate response. Many came and allowed surgeons to take as many as fifty or sixty pieces of their skin to be grafted on Landrum. Sixteen are waiting to give pieces of skin.

More than 600 pieces of skin already have been grafted to young Landrum. His weakened condition, however, makes the grafting a slow process, and it will be from two to three months before enough skin can be grafted to him, according to the surgeon. It is the plan to graft seventy-five to 100 pieces at intervals of a few days each.

The pieces of skin added to Landrum are not larger than the size of a fingernail.

FITZSIMMONS HAD HARDEST PUNCH

Lanky Bob Given Credit for Punching Ability by Fistic Authorities.

Bob Fitzsimmons, according to quite a number of fistic authorities, carried the hardest punch of any heavyweight champion.

Jack Dempsey's punching ability was always regarded as inferior to that of Fitzsimmons.

If you care to base your arguments on the respective records of Dempsey and Fitzsimmons, then Dempsey must be considered the better slugger writes H. G. Salinger, in the Detroit News.

Dempsey has engaged in eight fights where the heavyweight title was involved. He has scored a total of 22 knockdowns.

Dempsey knocked down Willard seven times in the first round of their fight in Toledo. He knocked down Billy Miske twice in the third round of their fight at Benton Harbor. He knocked down Bill Brennan once in the twelfth round, at New York City. He dropped Georges Carpentier twice in the fourth round at Boyle's Thirty Acres. He scored seven knockdowns over Luis Firpo in the first round and two in the second at Shelby Mont. He floored Tunney once, in the seventh round, at Chicago.

In only two of his fights did Dempsey fail to score a knockdown. He could not drop Tommy Gibbons in their 15-round bout at Shelby Mont, and he failed to topple Tunney in their first meeting at Philadelphia last year.

Fitzsimmons fought only three fights as heavyweight champion and he scored but one knockdown, James J. Corbett was the only man Fitzsimmons floored in heavyweight championship competition.

The statistics, therefore, lean far toward Dempsey.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

WOMEN WERE NOT INCLUDED IN JURY PANEL

Thief River Falls, Minn., Feb. 16. — (UP) — Women, or the lack of them, which halted proceedings of Pennington county district court, today brought a difference of opinion on the part of board members, and a closed court room until the difficulty is ironed out.

Thirty jurors summoned for the February term of court were dismissed when Judge A. Grinland of Warren heard objections of counsel to the first defendant on trial, based on the plea that women had not been included in the jury panel.

The court held that it was not within the jurisdiction of the county board to omit women from the jury panel, which was done, it was explained, because the courthouse lacked facilities to care for them.

Must Give Results in 7 Days or Money Back, Says H. P. Dunn

Make up your mind today that you are going to give your skin a real chance to get well.

If Back Hurts Begin on Salts

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally by Drinking Quarts of Good Water

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. The much rich food creates acids which clog the kidney pores so that they sludge and filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood. Then we get sick. Rheumatism, headache, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders often come from sluggish kidneys. The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage, or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin to drink soft water in quantities; also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and can no injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone can take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby often preventing serious kidney complications.

LESLIE LANDRUM, 11, JEFFERSON CITY, MO., VICTIM OF BURNS

LOST SKIN FROM HIS HIPS TO ANKLES, NEARLY 150 SQUARE INCHES

Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 16. — (UP) — Operations during which nearly four thousand pieces of skin will be grafted to Leslie Landrum, 11, will be necessary if the boy's life is to be saved, according to Dr. S. V. Bedford, surgeon at St. Mary's hospital here.

Landrum for days has been near death as a result of burns which took most of his skin from his ankles to his hips. Approximately 150 square inches of skin was burned. Physicians said the only hope for recovery was in grafting skin on the burned area. Volunteers were called for.

There was immediate response. Many came and allowed surgeons to take as many as fifty or sixty pieces of their skin to be grafted on Landrum. Sixteen are waiting to give pieces of skin.

More than 600 pieces of skin already have been grafted to young Landrum. His weakened condition, however, makes the grafting a slow process, and it will be from two to three months before enough skin can be grafted to him, according to the surgeon. It is the plan to graft seventy-five to 100 pieces at intervals of a few days each.

The pieces of skin added to Landrum are not larger than the size of a fingernail.

FITZSIMMONS HAD HARDEST PUNCH

Lanky Bob Given Credit for Punching Ability by Fistic Authorities.

Bob Fitzsimmons, according to quite a number of fistic authorities, carried the hardest punch of any heavyweight champion.

Jack Dempsey's punching ability was always regarded as inferior to that of Fitzsimmons.

If you care to base your arguments on the respective records of Dempsey and Fitzsimmons, then Dempsey must be considered the better slugger, writes H. G. Sallinger, in the Detroit News.

Dempsey has engaged in eight fights where the heavyweight title was involved. He has scored a total of 23 knockdowns.

Dempsey knocked down Willard seven times in the first round of their fight in Toledo. He knocked down Billy Miske twice in the third round of their fight at Benton Harbor. He knocked down Bill Brennan once in the twelfth round, at New York city. He dropped Georges Carpentier twice in the fourth round at Boyle's Thirty Acres. He scored seven knockdowns over Luis Firpo in the first round and in the second at New York city. He floored Tunney once in the seventh round, at Chicago.

In only two of his fights did Dempsey fail to score a knockdown. He could not drop Tommy Gibbons in their 15-round bout at Shelby Mont. and he failed to topple Tunney in their first meeting at Philadelphia last year.

Fitzsimmons fought only three fights as heavyweight champion and he scored but one knockdown, James J. Corbett was the only man Fitzsimmons floored in heavyweight championship competition.

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis, and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

WOMEN WERE NOT INCLUDED IN JURY PANEL

Thief River Falls, Minn., Feb. 16. — (UP) — Women, or the lack of them, which halted proceedings of Pennington county district court, today brought a difference of opinion on the part of board members, and a closed court room until the difficulty is ironed out.

Thirty jurors summoned for the February term of court were dismissed when Judge A. Grinland of Warren heard objections of counsel to the first defendant on trial, based on the plea that women had not been included in the jury panel.

The court held that it was not within the jurisdiction of the county board to omit women from the jury panel, which was done, it was explained, because the courthouse lacked facilities to care for them.
